Highland Golf at Gordon Castle with Royal Dornoch, July 24 to 31, 2016

The Tour

The Moray coastline in the North East of Scotland offers the golfing tourist "much more than golf." Dotted with picturesque villages, historic castles, ancient cathedrals, exotic estate gardens and mysterious Pictish standing stones Moray's beauty completes a treasure of exciting local golf links like Forres and Elgin and renowned rivers like the world famous River Spey, sought by fishermen from all over the world. Those with a taste for the Uisge Beatha (Water of life) can travel the heart of Moray seeking out and sampling the best of Speyside's legendary distilleries. Gordon Castle, located on the banks of the River Spey, recognized as one of Scotland's premier sporting estates, is exclusively reserved for the duration of the tour. Gordon Castle marries the traditional splendor of a Highland Scottish castle with a subtle touch of twenty first century comfort and offers eight spacious bedrooms of individual character (each with en-suite bathroom and king sized bed), a drawing room, a study, a billiard room and two large reception rooms. Satellite TV and WI-FI broadband are also provided and a lift is available to the first floor accommodation. Guests are looked after by the resident gourmet chef who serves the very best of locally sourced cuisine: Aberdeen Angus Beef, Morayshire Pork, Game from the Estate, fresh fish from the River Spey, shellfish from the Moray Firth, herbs, fruit and vegetables from the Castle's Walled Garden. Highland Golfing. Moray golfing is reputed to have more sunshine hours than any other part of the British Isles. Match that with a championship links and you have the ideal locality for a golfing vacation.

Royal Dornoch: Though not in Moray, heads the list of courses on the roster, and is viewed by many as the mystical course hidden in the Scottish Highlands. Largely the inspiration of Old Tom Morris in 1866, this great par 70 links wrapped around the curving bay of the Dornoch Firth, will demand your full attention.

Castle Stuart: Second on the famed Moray golf roster is Castle Stuart Golf Links, a newcomer on the highland golf scene, offering a modern linkscape with exciting views of the Black Isle, Kessock Bridge and Chanonry Light across the Moray Firth that will surely stray the golfers eye. So young, yet already serving as host to two Scottish Opens, Castle Stuart has become a favorite of international golfers looking for championship seaside golf.

Moray Golf Club: Besides but not too far behind the very best highland golf, is Moray Golf club, often known as Lossiemouth, a fabulous links whose closing holes seem to march into the town center, and often to the tune of a Scottish piper playing nearby.

Elgin Golf Club: A change of scenery to a testing heathland course, as fast as any links, offers the alternative view of the local countryside and claims to the finest inland course of all the highlands.

Forres Golf Club: Open winners of the early days, Willie Park and James Braid are credited with this par seventy picturesque forested layout. Host to the numerous Northern Open and Scottish Professional Championships is a testimony to its strength and popularity.

Gordon Castle: Conveniently situated an hour from Inverness and Aberdeen, Gordon Castle offers exclusive Scottish Highland accommodation nestled in the beautiful Spey Valley. The Castle is fully staffed and with a larder stocked with the best local cuisine. Guests are looked after by a resident gourmet chef who serves the very best of local cuisine; Aberdeen Angus Beef, Morayshire Pork, Game from the Estate, fish from the River Spey, shellfish from the Moray Firth, and herbs, fruit and vegetables from the Walled Garden.
